Ship's Journal on the Line

We cruised on the line from the 18 of January to the 27 of February from the Long of 129 to 194.30 saw nothing but a strong E current - Feb 27 anchored out to the E bound to the Seargeon Islands

March 6
Saw the Seargeon at sunset & laid to windward of the Island through the night

March 7
Rounded on the E side of the Island & Peter took a Pilot - 12 midnight anchored in Omoo Bay in 22 fathoms water sand bottom round the Ship. Ooos here Omoo Bay on the West side off Seargeon is a good place for a Whaling Ship the water is good and handy the wood is not good but will answer very well. Potatoes are very good and keep well. Bread & puddings are plenty and cheap. Hoops can be had for powder it is a good safe place to give men liberty the natives are perfectly civil. The trade is chiefly powder balls flints long knives & cutlery and boots sell well. January Feb and March I think there is good Whaling to the South of the Island. Ships bound to Omoo will do better to go round the South end of the Island
